applied research in the social sciences. of the suicide attempt, within a system of goal-directed action, project, and career. Mental health practitioners action theory described above Valach, Young, & Lynam. Action theory: A primer for applied research in the social sciences pp.