Germany: Pioneers of European Unity

The first step in the recreation of the European Family must be a partnership between France and Britain. The origins of this partnership date back to 1939-1945, so that it fully. In 1946, the former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill pronounced a celebrated speech. The first step in the recreation of the European Family must be a partnership between France and Germany. Pioneers of European Unity