European and North American Railway Company

Association of North America IANA - Industry trade association Organization of the European and North American Railway. A comparison of North American and European railway. - Springer Bridging the European and North American Rail Safety Assurance Gaps. scheduled or the negative impact on the company reputation are not The Independent Safety Assessor, whom is a formally certified organization, is mandatory.