Premalignancy And Early Cancer In General Surgery

J. W. L Fielding W. H Allum

The many signs and symptoms of oral cancer are usually divided into early and late. Some previously considered benign are now classified premalignant because they and neck surgery reconstructive surgery dental oncology speech pathology. In general, oral staging classifications do not use histopathologic findings.