Rowan Atkinson

Bruce Dessau

Rowan Atkinson @OfficialMrBean Twitter Comic actor and writer Rowan Atkinson starred on the TV series Not the Nine O’clock News and Blackadder. English actor, comedian and screenwriter Rowan Atkinson was born on January 6, 1955. Rowan Atkinson is most famous for his roles in classic sitcoms, including Blackadder and Mr Bean. He was also known for his roles in the films Bean and Johnny English. Atkinson is a multi-talented artist who has received critical acclaim for his work in film, television, and theater. Rowan Atkinson’s Net Worth is estimated to be around $130 million. He has been married to Sunetra Sastry since 1991 and they have two children together. In 2015, Atkinson and Sastry announced their separation after 24 years of marriage. Atkinson is known for his playful and humorous acting style and has been a favorite of audiences around the world. He has received numerous awards for his work, including the BAFTA Award for Best British Actor. Rowan Atkinson’s birthday is on January 6, 1955. He was born in Newcastle upon Tyne, England. Atkinson is a devout Buddhist and has been a vegetarian for many years. He is known for his humanitarian work and has supported various charities, including the Save the Children Fund. Rowan Atkinson is a talented actor who has left a lasting impression on the entertainment industry and continues to be a beloved figure to his fans.